0. Revisions

October 19, 2008 – V8

- ✎ Weekday Chol Hamoed Sukkot was moved from section 11 to section 12 since there are 4 aliyot during this service just as there are during a Rosh Chodesh weekday service. Section 12 was expanded to include the entire service. How to proceed during a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service reference was added to section 12.9.
- ✎ Appendix A updated to reflect the changes in sections 11 and 12

August 4, 2008 – V7

- ✎ Sections 5.1, 5.2, 9 and 10.7 updated with a clarification of where 2nd and 3rd Torah is to be placed on the Bimah table

October 9, 2007 – V6

- ✎ Section 4.2 updated with a suggestion which Gabbai should stand where
- ✎ Multiple sections updated which way is left or right on the Bimah
- ✎ Multiple sections updated to remind G2 to move the microphone during Hagbah
- ✎ Multiple sections updated to indicate that a new Misheberach song is being used
- ✎ Multiple sections updated to point out that G2 must remember which crowns go on which Torah
- ✎ Reference to which Siddur is being used at Beth Emeth was moved to Section 1
- ✎ Section 6 on page 19 was updated to note where to find Hatzi Kaddish during High Holiday Torah services and the fact that there are two “l'eila” in the Hatzi Kaddish on High Holidays.

June 3, 2007 – V5

- ✎ Added section 2.4.1 to discuss offering an aliyah to a mourner and the Shloshim period
- ✎ Added Exception paragraph to sections 10.6 (page 26), 11.7 (page 30) and 13.7 (page 33) to discuss the possibility of calling a Kohen or a Levi for aliyah 3 or 4 during a weekday or Rosh Chodesh service
- ✎ Updated section 12, page 31, with a reference to section 10.6 for a Weekday Rosh Chodesh service where a Kohen or a Levi could be honored with aliyah 4.

February 11, 2007 – V4

- ✎ Added section 2.4 to discuss giving an aliyah to someone in mourning
- ✎ Updated section 4.16 to include the new policy on giving an aliyah in observance of the monthly birthday/anniversary celebration

1. Introduction

The primary responsibility of the Gabbai (plural Gabbaiim) at Congregation Beth Emeth is to ensure that the Torah service runs smoothly and respectfully. To achieve this goal, the Gabbaiim must be fully familiar with the ritual and choreography of the Torah service. Most importantly, they must prepare to be able to carefully follow the Torah readings in a separate Hebrew text and to assist the Torah readers as needed by quietly and clearly correcting any mistakes made in the reading. To do this task properly, if possible, the Gabbaiim should prepare by reviewing the parsha several days prior to the Torah service. A successful Gabbai will be well versed in Torah reading cantillation, trope, and be able to read Hebrew well.

This manual is designed to assist individuals to perform the function of Gabbai during a Torah service at Congregation Beth Emeth. This handbook addresses Torah Services held on Shabbat (morning and afternoon), Festivals, Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur (morning and afternoon), Chanuka and weekdays.

Any reference to a Gabbai in this manual is to a Gabbai serving during a Torah service on the Bimah, not to a Super Gabbai, the service floor leader.

References to page numbers refer to Siddur Sim Shalom for Shabbat and Festivals unless otherwise noted.

2. Interesting Torah Service Facts

2.1 When Is The Torah Read?

The Torah is read every Shabbat, the High Holy Days (Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur), the three pilgrimage Festivals (Sukkot, Pesach, and Shavuot) and intervening days (Chol Hamoed) if any, Rosh Chodesh (New Month), Chanuka and Purim. It is also read on fast days, including the 9th of Av, the 10th of Tevet, the 17th of Tammuz, and the Fast of Gedaliah, and on every Monday and Thursday morning.

2.2 Number Of Aliyot On Various Days

- ⌘ Weekdays (Monday and Thursday): three aliyot.
- ⌘ Shabbat Mincha: three aliyot
- ⌘ Purim: three aliyot.
- ⌘ Fast Days (10th of Tevet, 17th of Tammuz, Fast of Gedaliah, 9th of Av): three at morning service; three at afternoon service (third is Maftir).
- ⌘ Chanuka: three aliyot unless Rosh Chodesh or Shabbat (see below)
- ⌘ Chol Hamoed Sukkot and Pesach: four aliyot unless Shabbat (see below)
- ⌘ Rosh Chodesh: four when it falls on a weekday or Chanuka; seven plus Maftir on a Shabbat.
- ⌘ Pilgrimage Festivals (Pesach, Shavuot, Sukkot): five plus Maftir when it falls on a weekday; seven plus Maftir on Shabbat.
- ⌘ Rosh Hashanah: five plus Maftir when it falls on a weekday; seven plus Maftir on a Shabbat.
- ⌘ Yom Kippur: six plus Maftir on weekday; seven plus Maftir on a Shabbat; three (third is Maftir) at afternoon (Mincha) service.
- ⌘ Shabbat morning: seven plus Maftir
- ⌘ Simchat Torah: seven hakafot (processionals) with Torah scrolls; everyone is given an aliyah. Special aliyot for Chatan (or Kallat) HaTorah, Chatan (or Kallat) Bereisheet, and, collectively, for the congregation's children.

2.3 Who May Have an Aliyah?

- ⌘ Any Jewish adult (over the age of thirteen) may have an aliyah.

⌘ The first aliyah traditionally belongs to a Kohen, the second to a Levi. If a Kohen is not present and a Levi is, the Levite may take the first aliyah. If neither is present, an Israelite may be substituted. The following is the traditional order of preference for persons entitled to an aliyah:

- ⊃ Bridegroom and bride
- ⊃ Bar and Bat Mitzvah
- ⊃ Parents naming a baby
- ⊃ Bridegroom on the Shabbat after wedding
- ⊃ Father of a baby girl to be named
- ⊃ Person commemorating a Yahrzeit (on this day)
- ⊃ Father of a baby to be circumcised on that day or during the coming week
- ⊃ One observing Yahrzeit for one's parents during the coming week
- ⊃ One who has to recite the blessing of gomel
- ⊃ One who is about to leave on a journey or has just returned from one
- ⊃ A distinguished guest in the community

Note: Traditionally, the third and the sixth aliyot are reserved for persons of great learning and piety, as is the aliyah that concludes each of the five books of the Torah.

2.4 Who Should NOT Have an Aliyah?

- ⌘ An aliyah must not be offered to a non-Jewish person. A non-Jewish person may ascend the Bimah to read an English prayer.
- ⌘ A Jewish person should NOT be offered an aliyah during the time that the person is in mourning.

2.4.1 Aliyah and a mourner

There is a period of mourning called Shloshim, which is the first 30 days following the burial of a loved one. During this period it is not appropriate to offer the mourner an aliyah. Should the aliyah be accidentally offered, the mourner should not refuse it and the aliyah offer must not be rescinded.

In Hebrew Shloshim means Thirty. Thus the mourning period may be as long as 30 days following a burial, but it may be shorter. The Shloshim as well as the Shiva period may be shortened if a festival occurs. Let me explain:

In Jewish law, a holiday completely cancels the Shiva period (a 7 day period of mourning following the burial). If the Shiva is completed before a holiday starts, the Shloshim period is cancelled by the holiday and the mourner doesn't have to resume the mourning observances after the holiday conclusion. If the Shiva is NOT completed by the time a holiday starts, see the chart below for how long Shloshim is to be observed for each holiday.

If a loved one is buried before a holiday and the Shiva is completed before the holiday starts, the Shloshim period is over for those observing it and they may be offered an aliyah during the holiday or Shabbat Chol Ha'Moed of the holiday, if any.

Shloshim length chart

If Shiva began, but was not completed before end of Pesach:

1. The partial Shiva period cancelled by Pesach equals seven days.
2. Eight days of Pesach, added to the previous seven, make a sum of 15 days.
3. Required for the Shloshim after Pesach completes: 15 additional days.

If Shiva began, but was not completed before end of Shavuot

1. The partial Shiva period cancelled by Shavuot equals seven days.
2. The first day of Shavuot is considered the equivalent of another seven days, giving the sum of 14 days.
3. The second day of the holiday marks the 15th day.
4. Required for Shloshim after end of Shavuot: 15 additional days.

If Shiva began, but was not completed before end of Sukkot

1. The partial Shiva period cancelled by Sukkot equals seven days.
2. Seven days of holiday, added to the seven, makes a sum of 14 days.
3. The holiday of Shemini Atzeret, which falls on the eighth day of Sukkot is regarded as another seven-day period. This makes 21 days.
4. The day of Simchat Torah marks the 22nd day.
5. Required for Shloshim after end of Sukkot: 8 additional days.

Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur

If Shiva began, but was not completed before end of Rosh Hashanah:

1. The partial Shiva period prior to Rosh Hashanah equals seven days.
2. Yom Kippur completes the Shloshim.

If Shiva began, but was not completed before end of Yom Kippur:

1. The partial Shiva period before Yom Kippur equals seven days.
2. Sukkot completes the Shloshim.

If burial took place during the festival itself, or on Chol Ha'moed of Sukkot or Pesach, then:

1. Shiva observance begins at the completion of the holiday (in the case of Sukkot-after Simchat Torah).
2. The last day of the festival (Passover, Shavuot, Sukkot, and Rosh Hashanah) is counted as the first day of shiva.
3. The days of the holidays are, nevertheless, counted as part of the Shloshim. (This means that Shloshim actually begins before the shiva.)
4. The day of Shemini Atzeret is counted as only a single day.

While these rules may seem complicated, keep in mind that the Shloshim period lasts for 30 days during the year if there are no holidays. It is only when holidays intervene during a mourning period that there may be any questions as to the length of the Shloshim period.

As with many things in Judaism, there is no hard and fast rule on the length of period when a mourner should not be offered an aliyah. Some Rabbis allow a mourner to take an aliyah after the conclusion of the Shiva period (up to 7 days). At Congregation Beth Emeth we should not be offering an aliyah to mourners during the Shloshim period, as explained above. If you have any questions about this, please contact the Rabbi.

3. Logistical Preparations

Each Torah service requires two Gabbaiim. For convenience, this manual identifies them as G1 and G2. These designations are not cast in stone, but are offered as suggestions. For those functions that can be performed by either Gabbai, it should be mutually agreed between the Gabbaiim who will perform what. For example, if it's more convenient for G2 to take out a Torah from the Ark, then G2 should do it. While for ease of writing a Gabbai is referred to as "he", either a man or a woman may serve as a Gabbai. References to locations refer to left and right with respect to someone facing the congregation from the Bimah, left being toward the Rabbi's chair, right being toward the Torah reading table. A Ritual Committee representative and/or the Gabbaiim determine who will function as G1 and G2 before the Torah service begins. They should also identify which Torah(s) is (are) being read. At the present time, the primary Shabbat Torah is the middle Torah in the Ark. Prior to the beginning of the service, the Gabbaiim should ensure that a Chumash is placed on the right side of the Torah reading table and a Tikkun is placed on the left side. The G1 Gabbai needs to bring a Siddur to the Bimah as well.

The service floor leader, called the Super Gabbai (member of the Ritual Committee or someone designated by the chair of the Ritual Committee), assists the Gabbaiim by performing several important tasks. Prior to the Torah service the Super Gabbai determines what honors, aliyot, are available and assigns them to individuals as appropriate. The committee also prepares a printed chart containing the following information: Torah readers, Haftorah reader, honors (aliyot, Hagbah, Gelilah, open and close the Ark, etc) to be given out, including the Hebrew and English names of the individuals receiving them, as required and available, and the chapter and verse for each Torah reading and for the Haftorah reading for the service. The synagogue administrative assistant places a copy of the chart on both sides of the Torah reading table and on the rabbi's podium prior to the beginning of the service. As the service proceeds, the Super Gabbai identifies individuals receiving honors as they arrive at the synagogue and ensures that they know how and when to perform the honor. The Super Gabbai may be required to ask someone to take an honor if all honors have not been distributed or someone who has agreed to take an honor fails to arrive. During the Torah service, the Super Gabbai prompts the honored individuals as required so that they arrive at the Bimah in a timely fashion.

4. Shabbat Morning Service with One Torah

4.1 Ascending the Bimah

The Torah service begins on page 139, following the Shacharit service, which concludes with the chanting of Kaddish Shalem on page 138. In anticipation of going up to the Bimah, during the Kaddish, the Gabbaiim should move quietly to a position near the Torah table. The Rabbi typically announces the beginning of the Torah service and instructs the congregation to turn to page 139 for the singing of Ain Kamocha. At that time, and before chanting of the prayer begins, the Gabbaiim should walk to the Bimah and sit in the chairs behind the Torah reading table. Those who are honored with opening of the Ark curtain and carrying the Torah should be instructed by the Gabbaiim to ascend the Bimah at this time as well.

4.2 Opening the Ark

As the congregation begins chanting the last line of Ain Kamocha, the Gabbaiim rise and walk to the Ark taking positions on either side of the Ark. It is suggested that G2 stands on the side of the Ark near the Rabbi's chair and G1 on the opposite side of the Ark. G2 or a designated person opens the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim, along with everyone else, then face the Ark as the service continues through the singing of Bai Ana Rahetz (page 140).

4.3 Taking Out the Torah

At the conclusion of Bai Ana Rahetz, the G1 removes the appropriate Torah from the Ark and hands it carefully to the Chazzan or a designated person. The person honored with closing the Ark curtain does so at this time. All on the Bimah face the congregation with the Gabbaiim slightly behind the Torah during the recitation and repetition of the first two lines of the Sh'ma (page 141). When the Chazzan turns to face the Ark to chant the Gadlu, he (she) should step forward slightly and the Gabbaiim should move back slightly to ensure that the Torah remains in front of the Gabbaiim and closest to the Ark. All parties on the Bimah should turn to face the Ark and bend forward from the waist towards the Ark during the singing of Gadlu (גַּדְלוּ לַשֵּׁם אֲתֵי) and stand up straight for the rest of the sentence. Gabbaiim should prompt participants who are unfamiliar with this ritual to perform it.

4.4 Processional

The processional occurs immediately following the conclusion of the chanting of Gadlu. The Torah carrier exits the Bimah to the right (toward Bimah table) followed by the Chazzan, the Rabbi, a representative of the synagogue and then G1. During the processional, G2 prepares the Torah reading table by placing the b'rachot sheet (the plastic sheet containing the Torah blessings written in large Hebrew letters and English transliteration) on the right side of the table with the Sefardi side up and the Torah cover on the left. He removes the lectern and places it under one of the chairs behind the Bimah table. He opens the Chumash on the right side of the table as well as the Tikkun on the left side of the table to the appropriate pages for that day's reading. G2 then faces the left entrance to the Bimah (toward the Rabbi's chair) and awaits the return of the Torah.

4.5 Removing the Torah Mantle and Silver

As the Torah arrives at the Bimah, G2 moves to meet it and takes it from the carrier. G2 carries the Torah to the reading table and holds it steady while G1 removes the crown, yad and the breastplate. G1 places the yad on the reading table and stores the crown and the breastplate on the stand next to the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. At the same time, G2 places the Torah on the reading table and invites the audience to be seated. After storing the crown and the breastplate, G1 returns to the Torah reading table, removes the Torah mantle, and places it on top of the stand. Meanwhile, G2 removes the wimple (binding) and places it at the top right corner of the reading table and covers the Torah with the Torah cover. G2 then takes a position on the left side of the reading table and G1 occupies a similar position on the right side.

4.6 Reading the Torah

During the reading of the Torah, G1, positioned on the right side of the reading table, performs several tasks. G1 calls the individual to the Bimah for each aliyah, assists that person in performing the ritual of kissing the Torah, as necessary, ensures that the blessings are recited properly and directs each individual to the appropriate position on the Bimah.

G2 announces the chapter, verse and page of the reading in the Chumash before each aliyah (this should be done before G1 calls the honoree, but NEVER AFTER the honoree chants the blessings before the Torah reading), keeps track of where each reading begins and ends in the Torah scroll and directs the honorees to leave the Bimah at the appropriate time.

Both Gabbaiim share responsibility for following the Torah reading, assisting the Torah reader as necessary and correcting mistakes made by the reader. The Gabbaiim MUST correct errors in pronunciation, but should not correct mistakes in trope. At Beth Emeth, a male honoree is required to wear a tallit and a kippah when called up on the Bimah. A female honoree must have an appropriate head covering. It is the responsibility of the Super Gabbai to ensure that the honorees have the appropriate vestments.

4.7 The First Aliyah

Before the reading of the Torah begins, the Rabbi may speak briefly. At the conclusion of the Rabbi's comments, G2 will announce the chapter, verse and page of the reading in the Chumash. G1 then calls the first aliyah by chanting the V'ya'azor on page 141. The following two lines are always chanted.

וַיֵּצֵא וַיִּגַּן וַיּוֹשִׁיעַ לְכָל-הַחוֹסִים בּוֹ, וְנֹאמַר אָמֵן.
הַכֹּל הָבוּ גְדֹל לְאַלֹהֵינוּ, וְתַעֲבוּ כְבוֹד לְתוֹרָה.

4.8 Common Procedure for All First Aliyot

The first aliyah is reserved for a Kohen, if one is present. If the first aliyah is a male Kohen, the Gabbai continues as follows:

כֹּהֵן קָרַב. יַעֲמֵד _____ בֶּן _____ הַכֹּהֵן

The Hebrew name of the individual having the first aliyah, the Kohen aliyah, is substituted as appropriate for the blanks in line above.

If the first aliyah is a bat Kohen, a daughter of a Kohen, instead of the line above, the Gabbai continues as follows:

בַּת כֹּהֵן קָרְבִי. תַעֲמֵד _____ בַּת _____ הַכֹּהֵן

If a couple is called for the Kohen aliyah, the person who is either the Kohen or bat Kohen is called first. When the man is a Kohen, the Gabbai calls:

כֹּהֵן, קָרַב. יַעֲמֵד _____ בֶּן _____ הַכֹּהֵן וְ! _____ בַּת _____

Do NOT insert haKohen after the woman's name.

When the woman is a bat Kohen, the Gabbai calls:

בַּת כֹּהֵן, קָרְבִי. יַעֲמֵד _____ בַּת _____ הַכֹּהֵן וְ! _____ בֶּן _____

Do NOT insert haKohen after the man's name no matter how tempting that might be.

If there is no Kohen available, a Levi will be called to stand in the place of a Kohen. A couple will never be called if at least one of them is not a Kohen or a bat Kohen.

If the first aliyah is a male Levi standing in for a Kohen, the Gabbai instead of the line above, continues as follows:

אֵין כֹּהֵן, יַעֲמֵד _____ בֶּן _____ הַלְוִי בְּמָקוֹם כֹּהֵן

If the first aliyah is a female Levi standing in for a Kohen, instead of the line above, the Gabbai continues as follows:

אֵין כֹּהֵן, תַעֲמֵד _____ בַּת _____ הַלְוִי בְּמָקוֹם כֹּהֵן.

If there is no Kohen or a Levi that can be called up for the first aliyah, an Israelite is called to the Torah.

If the first aliyah is a male Israelite, the Gabbai instead of the line above, continues as follows:

אֵין כָּאן כֹּהֵן, יַעֲמֵד _____ בֶּן _____ יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּמָקוֹם כֹּהֵן.

If the first aliyah is a female Israelite, the Gabbai instead of the line above, continues as follows:

אֵין כָּאן כֹּהֵן, תַּעֲמֵד _____ בַּת _____ יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּמָקוֹם כֹּהֵן.

The Gabbai introduction continues with:

בְּרוּךְ שְׁנַתְּן תּוֹרָה לְעַמּוֹ יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּקִדְשָׁתוֹ.

The Gabbai along with the rest of the Congregation continues:

וְאַתֶּם הַדְּבָקִים בְּשֵׁם אֱלֹהֵיכֶם, חַיִּים כְּלַכֶּם הַיּוֹם.

In cases where the Hebrew name of the person having the aliyah is not known ahead of the time, G1 should quietly ask the person for it as the individual approaches the Bimah. If the person does not know his/her Hebrew name, G1 should call using the person's English name. If the person does not know his/her father's Hebrew name, G1 should call using ben/bat Avraham. Also, some people honored with an aliyah cannot easily recite the blessings before and after the Torah reading. They need extra help from G1 to avoid embarrassment. G1 should be aware of this and be ready to assist the honoree to recite the blessings. The blessings before and after the Torah reading are found on page 142 as well as on the b'rachot sheet on the right side of the Torah reading table.

Prior to reciting the first blessing, the person having the aliyah gathers a corner of his or her tallit, touches it to the place where the Torah reading begins (this will be pointed out by the Torah reader), and then kisses the tallit. If a woman is not wearing a tallit, then she should use the wimple or a Siddur to perform the same ritual. Some individuals incorrectly kiss the tallit or wimple first and then the Torah. G1 should be alert to see that the ritual is properly observed. If G2 forgot to announce the page and verse numbers for the reading, this is NOT the time to remedy that. Nothing should come between the blessing and the reading of the Torah. At the end of the reading, the person having the aliyah again touches the Torah where the Torah reading ended with the appropriate article, kisses it and then recites the blessing after the Torah reading.

After the blessing is recited, G2 places the Torah cover over the Torah. G1 then congratulates the person for having completed the mitzvah of being called to the Torah with the traditional "Yasher Koach" to a man, "Yashar Kochech" to a woman, and a handshake or kiss, as appropriate. The individual is then directed to the other side of the reading table where G2 extends a similar greeting. The Torah reader may be congratulated in the same manner by the Gabbaiim.

4.9 The Second Aliyah

The second aliyah is reserved for a Levi, if one is present.

The Gabbai will call a male Levi as follows:

יַעֲמֵד _____ בֶּן _____ הַלֵּוִי

For a female Levi, the Gabbai will call as follows:

תַּעֲמֵד _____ בַּת _____ הַלֵּוִי

If a couple is called for the Levi aliyah, the person who is either the Levi or bat Levi is called first. When the man is a Levi, the Gabbai calls:

יְעֲמִידוּ _____ בֶּן _____ הַלְוִי וְ! _____ בַּת _____

As above, G1 will refrain from repeating haLevi after the woman's name.

When the woman is a bat Levi, the Gabbai calls:

יְעֲמִידוּ _____ בַּת _____ הַלְוִי וְ! _____ בֶּן _____

As above, G1 will need to remember not to repeat haLevi after the man's name.

If there is no Levi, but there was a Kohen or a bat Kohen called for the Kohen aliyah, the same person who was called for the Kohen aliyah is called for the Levi aliyah. For a male Kohen, the Gabbai will call as follows:

אֵין כֹּהֵן לְוִי יְעֲמִיד _____ בֶּן _____ הַכֹּהֵן בְּמִקוֹם לְוִי

For a female Kohen called for the Levi aliyah, the Gabbai will call as follows:

אֵין כֹּהֵן לְוִי תְעֲמִיד _____ בַּת _____ הַכֹּהֵן בְּמִקוֹם לְוִי

If there is no Kohen or a Levi present, an Israelite (other than was called for the first aliyah) will be called. A male Israelite will be called as follows:

אֵין כֹּהֵן לְוִי יְעֲמִיד _____ בֶּן _____ יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּמִקוֹם לְוִי

A female Israelite will be called as follows:

אֵין כֹּהֵן לְוִי תְעֲמִיד _____ בַּת _____ יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּמִקוֹם לְוִי

4.10 The Third Aliyah

The third aliyah is traditionally reserved for the Israelite. A Kohen or Levi should NOT be given the third aliyah.

A male will be called as follows:

יְעֲמִיד _____ בֶּן _____ שְׁלִישִׁי

A female will be called as follows:

תְעֲמִיד _____ בַּת _____ שְׁלִישִׁית

4.11 Fourth Aliyah

A male will be called as follows:

יְעֲמִיד _____ בֶּן _____ רְבִיעִי

A female will be called as follows:

תְּעַמַּד _____ בֵּת _____ רְבִיעִית

4.12 The Fifth Aliyah

A male will be called as follows:

יְעַמַּד _____ בֶּן _____ חֲמִישִׁי

A female will be called as follows:

תְּעַמַּד _____ בֵּת _____ חֲמִישִׁית

4.13 The Sixth Aliyah

A male will be called as follows:

יְעַמַּד _____ בֶּן _____ שֵׁשִׁי

A female will be called as follows:

תְּעַמַּד _____ בֵּת _____ שֵׁשִׁית

For the third through sixth aliyot, a couple will be called as follows:

יְעַמְדוּ _____ בֶּן _____ וְ _____ בֵּת _____ followed by the specific aliyah number as above for a male.

4.14 The Seventh Aliyah

A male will be called as follows:

יְעַמַּד _____ בֶּן _____ שְׁבִיעִי

A female will be called as follows:

תְּעַמַּד _____ בֵּת _____ שְׁבִיעִית

A Kohen or a Levi can be called up as a Kohen or a Levi for his or her own aliyah (1st and 2nd respectively). If they agree to be called for any other aliyah (4th through 6th), they can be called the same way as any other honoree, without the Kohen or Levi designation. Remember from 4.10 above that the 3rd aliyah should not be given to a Kohen or Levi.

The 7th aliyah is an exception. A Kohen or a Levi may be called as a Kohen or a Levi as follows:

יְעַמַּד _____ בֶּן _____ הַכֹּהֵן שְׁבִיעִי אַחֲרוֹן

A bat Kohen would be called as follows:

תְּעַמַּד _____ בֵּת _____ הַכֹּהֵן שְׁבִיעִית אַחֲרוֹנָה

A Levi or a bat Levi would be called in a similar fashion substituting הַלְוִי for הַכֹּהֵן above. This is usually used when the Kohen or Levi aliyah is already taken for whatever reason and another Kohen or Levi needs to be accommodated with an aliyah. An example where this may occur is a Bar Mitzvah for a family of Kohanim where the Grandfather gets the Kohen aliyah and the father of the Bar Mitzvah gets the 7th or Acharon aliyah.

If a couple is called for the seventh aliyah where one of the couple is a Kohen, they will be called as shown in section 4.8 followed by שְׁבִיעִי אַחֲרוֹן (omitting קָרַב כִּהֵן or קָרְבִי כִהֵן בֵּית כִּהֵן). If one of the couple is a Levi, they will be called as shown in section 4.9 followed by שְׁבִיעִי אַחֲרוֹן.

For one additional exception to the Kohen/Levi rule done once a year, please see section 9 below.

At the conclusion of the appropriate blessing(s) after the Torah reading, the individual honored with the aliyah is directed to the left side of the reading table. As the individual moves to the left side, the person who had the previous aliyah is directed to leave the Bimah to the left so that the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative may greet him/her. G1 and G2 need to ensure that each honoree is directed to exit the Bimah to the left past the Rabbi.

4.15 Additional Rules When Calling Kohen or Levi Using Both Parents Names

When you call a person who wants to be called by the name of both parents, follow similar guidelines as above.

When calling a man whose father is a Kohen, you need to call him:

Kohen k'rav, Ya'amod Moshe ben Yitzhak haKohen v'Rivka

Do NOT insert haKohen or Kohen after the mother's name (Rivka).

To call bat Kohen, you call:

bat Kohen kirvee, Ta'amod Rivka bat Shmuel haKohen v'Chana

Again, do NOT insert haKohen or Kohen after the mother's name.

When calling a man whose father is a Levi, you need to call him:

Ya'amod Rafael ben Yonatan haLevi v'Chaya

When calling a bat Levi, a woman whose father is a Levi, you need to call her:

Ta'amod Rivka bat Nachman haLevi v'Sara

Do NOT say Levi or haLevi after Chaya or Sara above.

4.16 Special Circumstances

The same basic procedure is followed for all aliyot. G1 calls the honoree to the Bimah, the Torah is kissed, the blessing before the reading is recited, the Torah is read, the Torah is kissed and the blessing after the reading is recited. At this point of the service, there may be one of various occasions that call for a short interruption of the service.

If the aliyah is for a baby naming, the Rabbi will approach the Torah reading table to read a blessing for the baby. Following the blessings, the congregation will sing “V’shinantam levanecha”.

If the aliyah is for an Aufruf, the Rabbi will approach the Torah reading table to read a blessing for the couple. Following the blessings, the Rabbi and the couple will dance and the congregation will sing “Od Yishama”.

If this is the Torah reader’s first time reading from the Torah or if an adult honored with the aliyah has never had an aliyah before, the Shehecheyanu prayer will be recited by the person whose first honor this is. This prayer is found on the bottom half of page 131. G1 will announce the occasion to the congregation and may need to assist the honoree with the prayer.

If the person honored with an aliyah has recovered from a serious illness, returned safely from a long journey or survived a dangerous situation, Birkat HaGomel is recited. This prayer can be found in the Sim Shalom Siddur on page 142. G1 may need to assist the person with the blessing and lead the congregation in the congregational response.

After the seventh reading, the Rabbi will come to the Torah reading table to recite a prayer for those who are ill, Misheberach. G2 will need to move to his/her right to make room for the Rabbi. Currently the congregation joins in at the conclusion of the Misheberach prayer to sing the Misheberach song by Debbie Friedman.

A new custom has been instituted at the Congregation Beth Emeth. On the 2nd Shabbat of each month, one aliyah is reserved to those congregants who are celebrating a birthday or an anniversary during that month. This will be done regardless of what else is going on during the service (B’nai Mitzvah, etc.). The honorees for this aliyah will be called as follows:

- ⌘ G1 will announce the aliyah (the specific aliyah should be denoted on the Shabbat chart; if not, the Super Gabbai is supposed to let G1 know which aliyah is being used for this honor)
- ⌘ The celebrants will be called as a group using: Ya’amdu haChog’gim. (If you have a question on pronunciation, please contact either the author of this playbook or the Rabbi)

4.17 Hatzi Kaddish

At the conclusion of the Misheberach song, G1 asks the congregation to rise and then recites the Hatzi Kaddish (page 146). It is the Rabbi’s expressed request that G1 NOT announce the Hatzi Kaddish page number to the congregation. On Shabbat mornings, this always takes place following the seventh aliyah and preceding the Maftir aliyah. The congregation is asked to sit at the conclusion of the Hatzi Kaddish.

4.18 The Maftir Aliyah

G1 calls the Maftir aliyah. If the Haftorah reader is a male, the Gabbai calls as follows:

יְעִמַּד _____ בֶּן _____ (הַכֹּהֵן/הַלֵּוִי) מִפְטֹר

For a female Haftorah reader, the Gabbai calls as follows:

תְּעִמַּד _____ בַּת _____ (הַכֹּהֵן/הַלֵּוִי) מִפְטֹרָה

As seen above, a Kohen or a Levi will be called with the Kohen or Levi designation if the Haftorah reader is a Kohen or a Levi or a daughter of one.

4.19 Call Bar/Bat Mitzvah to the Torah

When a Bar/Bat Mitzvah is being celebrated, usually the Rabbi, not G1, calls the Bar/Bat Mitzvah as the Maftir aliyah. However, as always, there are exceptions. There are at least 2 instances when G1 will call the Bar/Bat Mitzvah to the Torah:

- א the Bar/Bat Mitzvah doesn't have the Maftir aliyah or
- ב there are multiple B'nai Mitzvah, one has the Maftir aliyah and the other has another aliyah

In case א, if the Bar/Bat Mitzvah will not chant the Haftorah, he/she will not get the Maftir aliyah. The child may be given any other aliyah, depending on his/her status as Kohen, Levi or Israelite. A Bar Mitzvah will be called as follows (the appropriate aliyah number will be added):

יְעֲמִד הַבְּחֹר הַבֵּר מִצְוֶה _____ בֶּן _____ וְ _____

A Bat Mitzvah will be called as follows:

תְּעֲמִד הַבְּחֹרֶה הַבַּת מִצְוֶה _____ בַּת _____ וְ _____

In case ב, the first child will be called exactly as immediately above and the second child, who has the Maftir aliyah will be called as follows (Bar Mitzvah):

יְעֲמִד הַבְּחֹר הַבֵּר מִצְוֶה _____ בֶּן _____ וְ _____ מִפְטֹר

A Bat Mitzvah will be called for the Maftir aliyah as follows:

תְּעֲמִד הַבְּחֹרֶה הַבַּת מִצְוֶה _____ בַּת _____ וְ _____ מִפְטֹרֶה

4.20 Lifting and Dressing the Torah

At the conclusion of the Maftir aliyah, G1 calls the Torah lifter, Hagbah, and Torah binder, Gelilah, to the Bimah.

For a male lifter and a male binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמִדוּ הַמְגַבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵל

For a male lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמִדוּ הַמְגַבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵלֶת

For a female lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls: תְּעֲמִדְנָה הַמְגַבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵלֶת

For a female lifter and male binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמִדוּ הַמְגַבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵל

G2 should move the microphone to be out of the way as the Torah is lifted. G1 asks the congregation to rise and as the Torah is lifted, the congregation sings V'zot HaTorah (page 146). G1 and G2 must stand nearby during the lifting of the Torah to protect against any accidents that might damage the Torah. They must help the Hagbah turn towards the Ark and guide him to an empty Bimah chair. Then, G2 holds the top Etzim to steady the Torah and assists the Gelilah to roll the Torah closed.

Once the Hagbah is seated and has control over the Torah and while G2 is holding on to the top Etzim, G1 retrieves the wimple, Torah mantle, and breastplate (but not the crown or rimonim) and assists the Gelilah in binding and dressing the Torah. At no time should the Torah not be attended by one of the Gabbaiim. After the Torah is dressed, G1 should assist the Hagbah by turning the Torah so that it faces the audience and can be held comfortably by the Hagbah. G2 removes the Torah cover and the b'rachot sheet from the Bimah so that the person chanting the Haftorah has a clear table. If the Haftorah reader requires the lectern, G2 will retrieve it from under a chair and place it on the reading table. G2 will also ensure that the microphone is moved toward the Haftorah reader so that he/she can be easily heard by the congregation. G2 should invite the congregation to be seated once the Torah mantle has been replaced. The Gelilah is directed to leave the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi) once the Torah is completely dressed.

The Hagbah customarily continues to hold the Torah during this portion of the service, which includes the Haftorah, any supplemental prayers for the congregation, the country and Israel and Ashrei. During a Bar/Bat Mitzvah, the family may designate someone to hold the Torah after it's been dressed. The holder should be asked to sit next to the Hagbah and when the Torah is dressed, G1 should carefully take the Torah and give it to the seated holder. The Hagbah is then directed to leave the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi).

The Gabbai sitting next to the Torah holder should hold the Chumash and Siddur so that the Hagbah can see it and participate in the service. At least one of the Gabbaiim remain on the Bimah sitting behind the Torah reading table until it is time to return the Torah to the Ark.

4.21 Returning the Torah to the Ark

During Shabbat services when there is no Caleb's Challenge essay being read, G1 retrieves the Torah crown or rimonim and places it on the Torah as the Ashrei prayer is being concluded. The recessional to return the Torah to the Ark begins with Y'halelu on page 153. As the Torah is brought forth to the center of the Bimah, G1 asks the congregation to rise. If there was a Caleb's Challenge essay read, G1 retrieves the Torah crown or rimonim and gives them to the Caleb's Challenge winner to hold. After the Chazzan sings the first line of the Y'halelu prayer, the Hagbah leads the recessional off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair), followed by the Caleb's Challenge winner(s), if any. The Chazzan follows along with the Rabbi and the representative of the Synagogue and G2 join the end of the procession. G1 remains on the Bimah to direct a designated person when to open the Ark curtain and awaits the return of the Torah to the Bimah.

After the Hagbah enters the Bimah from the right, G1 places the crown on the Torah if it already hasn't been done. If the Torah returns to the Bimah before Psalm 29, Mizmor l'David on page 153, is finished, the Hagbah will stand facing the congregation holding the Torah until the end of the Psalm. After Mizmor l'David on page 153 is completed, G1 will instruct the Ark curtain honoree to open the Ark curtain, take the Torah from the Hagbah and return it to its place on the cradle in the Ark. The Ark curtain is not to be opened until Psalm 29 is finished. If Mizmor l'David is completed while the recessional is still in progress, the congregation normally sings Ma Yafeh HaYom. The Torah may be placed in the Ark while Ma Yafeh HaYom is being sung. G1 and G2 again take positions on either side of the Ark. The Chazzan stands between them.

The Torah service concludes with the chanting of Etz Chaim (page 154). As the final words are chanted, the Gabbaiim may take the opportunity to step forward and kiss the Torah. As the prayer is concluding, G2 or a designated person closes the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim exit the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair), shaking hands with the Chazzan, the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative.

5. Shabbat Morning Service with Multiple Torahs

Discussed below are the differences between the description of the Shabbat morning service above and what happens when multiple Torahs (2 or 3) are used during a Shabbat service. This happens when Rosh Chodesh or a Festival or Chanuka occurs on Shabbat.

Two or three Torahs are taken out of the ark; they are usually marked by a representative of the Ritual Committee or the Rabbi prior to the service. There will be a person designated by the Ritual Committee to hold each Torah that's taken out of the Ark. In the processional, the Torahs are carried through the congregation in the order they will be read.

As the Torahs are brought back to the Bimah, the first Torah to be read is handled as described in sections 4.5 and 4.6 above. The crowns or rimonim from the other Torah(s) are removed, placed on the stand next to the chairs and the person(s) holding the Torah(s) is/are asked to sit down. At this time, G1 will ask the congregation to be seated. It is G2's responsibility to know which crowns or rimonim belong to which Torah.

5.1 Two Torah Procedure

When all readings from the 1st Torah are concluded and the blessing after the last reading from the 1st Torah is recited, the Gabba'im need to follow the procedure outlined below:

- ⌘ The Rabbi will recite the Misheberach prayer for the sick and the congregation will sing the Misheberach song by Debbie Friedman as in 4.16 above
- ⌘ G1 will ask the congregation to rise. It is imperative that the congregation stands before the Torah is moved to show respect for the Torah.
- ⌘ Take the 2nd Torah from the person holding it and place it on the table to the right of the 1st Torah. The 2nd Torah holder is directed to leave the Bimah to his/her left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ G1 will recite the Hatzi Kaddish, page 146.
- ⌘ G1 will call Hagbah and Gelilah for the 1st Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Rishon appended. See example below:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר רִאשׁוֹן

- ⌘ The 1st Torah is then dressed as indicated in section 4.20 above.
- ⌘ Once the 1st Torah is dressed, either G1 or G2 thanks the Gelilah and directs him/her off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ After the 1st Torah is dressed, G2 prepares the 2nd Torah to be read and covers it with the Torah cover.
- ⌘ G1 asks the congregation to be seated and calls the Maftir aliyah as above.

If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service, the Rabbi will call the Bar/Bat Mitzvah. Upon the conclusion of the reading and blessings, G1 asks the congregation to stand and calls the Hagbah and Gelilah for the 2nd Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Sheni appended. See example below:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר שֵׁנִי

When the 2nd Torah is dressed, G1 asks the congregation to be seated. The service continues as described in 4.21 above. During the recessional the Torahs are carried in the same order as during the processional – 1st Torah first followed by the 2nd.

5.2 Three Torah Procedure

When all readings from the 1st Torah are concluded and the blessing after the reading from the 1st Torah is recited, the Gabbaiim need to follow the procedure outlined below:

- ⌘ G1 will ask the congregation to rise. It is imperative that the congregation stands before the Torah is moved to show respect for the Torah.
- ⌘ Take the 2nd Torah from the person holding it and place it on the table to the right of the 1st Torah. The 2nd Torah holder is directed to leave the Bimah to his/her left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ G1 will call Hagbah and Gelilah for the 1st Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Rishon appended. See example below:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר רִאשׁוֹן

- ⌘ The 1st Torah is then dressed as indicated in section 4.20 above.
- ⌘ Once the 1st Torah is dressed, either G1 or G2 thanks the Gelilah and directs him/her off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi)
- ⌘ After the 1st Torah is dressed, G2 prepares the 2nd Torah to be read and covers it with the Torah cover.
- ⌘ G1 asks the congregation to be seated and calls the next aliyah as above.

When the reading from the 2nd Torah is concluded and the blessing after the reading from the 2nd Torah is recited, the Gabbaiim need to follow the procedure outlined below:

- ⌘ The Rabbi will recite the Misheberach prayer for the sick and the congregation will sing the Misheberach song by Debbie Friedman as in 4.16 above
- ⌘ G1 will ask the congregation to rise. It is imperative that the congregation stands before the Torah is moved to show respect for the Torah.
- ⌘ Take the 3rd Torah from the person holding it and place it on the table to the right of the 2nd Torah. The 3rd Torah holder is directed to leave the Bimah to his/her left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ G1 will recite the Hatzi Kaddish, page 146.
- ⌘ G1 will call Hagbah and Gelilah for the 2nd Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Sheni appended. See example below:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר שֵׁנִי

- ⌘ The 2nd Torah is then dressed as indicated in section 4.20 above.
- ⌘ Once the 2nd Torah is dressed, either G1 or G2 thanks the Gelilah and directs him/her off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi)
- ⌘ After the 2nd Torah is dressed, G2 prepares the 3rd Torah to be read and covers it with the Torah cover.
- ⌘ G1 asks the congregation to be seated and calls the Maftir aliyah as above.

If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service, the Rabbi will call the Bar/Bat Mitzvah. Upon the conclusion of the reading and blessing, G1 asks the congregation to stand and calls the Hagbah and Gelilah for the 3rd Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Sh'lishi appended. See example below:

יְצַמְדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיהַ וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר שְׁלִישִׁי

When the 3rd Torah is dressed, G1 asks the congregation to be seated. The service continues as described in 4.21 above. During the recessional the Torahs are carried in the same order as during the processional – 1st Torah first followed by the 2nd, followed by the 3rd.

6. Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur Morning Torah Service

Both the Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur Torah Services are identical to either a two Torah Shabbat or a Festival service with three exceptions. The number of aliyot is as described in section 2.2 above, the Hatzi Kadish can be found in the Machzor on page 108 (it is NOT found in the Torah service pages; note the 2nd “l'eila”) and during a weekday Rosh Hashanah service, there will be the Service of Sounding of the Shofar immediately prior to the return of the Torahs to the Ark.

7. Yom Kippur Afternoon Torah Service

The afternoon service begins immediately with the Torah service.

7.1 Opening the Ark

One of the Gabbaiim or a designated person opens the Ark curtain. The Chazzan chants Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron...

7.2 Taking Out the Torah

At the conclusion of Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron, the G1 removes the Torah being read from the Ark and hands it carefully to the Chazzan or a designated person. The person honored with closing the Ark curtain does so at this time. All on the Bimah stay facing the Ark as the Chazzan chants the Gadlu. All parties on the Bimah bend forward from the waist towards the Ark during the singing of the 1st three words of Gadlu (גִּדְּלוּ וְלִשְׁמֵ אֲתִי) and stand up straight for the rest of the sentence. Gabbaiim should prompt participants who are unfamiliar with this ritual to perform it.

7.3 Processional

The processional occurs immediately following the conclusion of the chanting of Gadlu. The Torah carrier exits the Bimah to the right followed by the Chazzan, the Rabbi, a representative of the synagogue and then G1. During the processional, G2 prepares the Torah reading table by placing the b'rachot sheet (the plastic sheet containing the Torah blessings written in large Hebrew letters and English transliteration) on the right side of the table with the Sefardi side up and the Torah cover on the left. He removes the lectern and places it under one of the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. He/she opens the Chumash on the right side of the table as well as the Tikkun on the left side of the table to the appropriate pages for that day's reading. G2 then faces the left entrance to the Bimah (toward the Rabbi's chair) and awaits the return of the Torah.

7.4 Removing the Torah Mantle and Silver

As the Torah arrives at the Bimah, G2 moves to meet it and takes it from the carrier. G2 carries the Torah to the reading table and holds it steady while G1 removes the crown, yad and the breastplate. G1 places the yad on the reading table and stores the crown and the breastplate on the stand next to the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. At the same time, G2 places the Torah on the reading table and invites the audience to be seated. After storing the crown and the breastplate, G1 returns to the Torah reading table, removes the Torah mantle, and places it on top of the stand. Meanwhile, G2 removes the wimple (binding) and places it at the top right corner of the reading table and covers the Torah with the Torah cover. G2 then takes a position on the left side of the reading table and G1 occupies a similar position on the right side.

7.5 Reading the Torah

During the reading of the Torah, G1, positioned on the right side of the reading table, performs several tasks. G1 calls the individual to the Bimah for each aliyah, assists that person in performing the ritual of kissing the Torah, as necessary, ensures that the blessings are recited properly and directs each individual to the appropriate position on the Bimah.

G2 announces the chapter, verse and page of the reading in the Machzor before each aliyah (before the honoree chants the blessings), keeps track of where each reading begins and ends in the Torah scroll and directs the honorees to leave the Bimah at the appropriate time.

Both Gabbaiim share responsibility for following the Torah reading, assisting the Torah reader as necessary and correcting mistakes made by the reader. The Gabbaiim MUST correct errors in pronunciation, but should not correct mistakes in trope. At Beth Emeth, a male honoree is required to wear a tallit and a kippah when called up on the Bimah. A female honoree must have an appropriate head covering. It is the responsibility of the Super Gabbai to ensure that the honorees have the appropriate vestments.

7.6 First Aliyah through Third Aliyah

G2 will announce the chapter, verse and page of the reading in the Chumash. G1 calls the first aliyah by chanting the V'Tigaleh instead of V'ya'azor as below:

וְתִגְּלֶה וְתִרְאֶה מַלְכוּתוֹ עָלֵינוּ בְּזִמְן קָרוֹב, וַיַּחֲזִן פְּלִיטָתָנוּ
וּפְלִיטַת עַמּוֹ בֵּית יִשְׂרָאֵל לְחֵן וּלְחֶסֶד לְרַחֲמִים וּלְרַצוֹן,
וְנֹאמַר אָמֵן. הַכֹּל הָבּוֹ גָּדֹל לְאַלְהֵינוּ וְתִנּוּ כְבוֹד לְתוֹרָה.

G1 continues with calling the Kohen (if present) as described above in section 4.8 Common Procedure for All First Aliyot and the Levi per section 4.9 The Second Aliyah. The third aliyah for this service only is the Maftir aliyah, which is called as in section 4.18 (obviously there will be no Bar/Bat Mitzvah on this day). There will be no Hatzi Kaddish.

7.7 Lifting and Dressing the Torah

At the conclusion of the Maftir aliyah, G1 calls the Torah lifter, Hagbah, and Torah binder, Gelilah, to the Bimah.

For a male lifter and a male binder, the Gabbai calls:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵל

For a male lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵלָּת

For a female lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls:

תְּעַמְדְנָה הַמַּגְבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵלָּת

For a female lifter and male binder, the Gabbai calls:

יְעֲמֹד הַמְגַבֵּיהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵל

G2 should move the microphone to be out of the way as the Torah is lifted. G1 asks the congregation to rise and as the Torah is lifted, the congregation sings V'zot HaTorah (page 146). G1 and G2 must stand nearby during the lifting of the Torah to protect against any accidents that might damage the Torah. They must help the Hagbah turn towards the Ark and guide him to an empty Bimah chair. Then, G2 holds the top Etzim to steady the Torah and assists the Gelilah to roll the Torah closed.

Once the Hagbah is seated and has control over the Torah and while G2 is holding on to the top Etzim, G1 retrieves the wimple, Torah mantle, and breastplate (but not the crown or rimonim) and assists the Gelilah in binding and dressing the Torah. At no time should the Torah not be attended by one of the Gabbaiim. After the Torah is dressed, G1 should assist the Hagbah by turning the Torah so that it faces the audience and can be held comfortably by the Hagbah. G2 removes the Torah cover and the b'rachot sheet from the Bimah so that the person chanting the Haftorah has a clear table. If the Haftorah reader requires the lectern, G2 will retrieve it from under a chair and place it on the reading table. G2 will also ensure that the microphone is moved toward the Haftorah reader so that he/she can be easily heard by the congregation. G2 should invite the congregation to be seated once the Torah mantle has been replaced. The Gelilah is directed to leave the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi) once the Torah is completely dressed.

7.8 Returning the Torah to the Ark

The rimonim or Torah crown are placed on the Torah at the conclusion of the Haftorah and G1 asks the congregation to stand. The recessional to return the Torah to the Ark begins with L'David Mizmor on page 630 of the Machzor. After singing the first line of the prayer, the Hagbah leads the recessional off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair). The Chazzan follows along with the Rabbi and the representative of the Synagogue and G2 join the end of the procession. G1 remains on the Bimah to direct a designated person when to open the Ark curtain and awaits the return of the Torah to the Bimah.

If the Torah returns to the Bimah before Psalm 24, L'David Mizmor on page 640, is finished, the Hagbah will stand facing the congregation holding the Torah until the end of the Psalm. After the Psalm is completed, G1 will ask the designated person to open the Ark curtain, take the Torah from the Hagbah and return it to its place on the cradle in the Ark. The Ark curtain is not to be opened until Psalm 24 is finished. If L'David Mizmor is completed while the recessional is still in progress, the congregation normally repeats the last paragraph beginning with S'oo sh'arim rasheychem. The Torah may be placed in the ark during the repetition of the last paragraph. G1 and G2 again take positions on either side of the Ark. The Chazzan stands between them. The Torah service concludes with the chanting of Etz Chaim (page 642). As the final words are chanted, the Gabbaiim may take the opportunity to step forward and kiss the Torah. As the prayer is concluding, G2 or a designated person closes the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim exit the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi), shaking hands with the Chazzan, the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative.

8. Festival or Holiday Torah Service

If a Festival occurs on Shabbat, the Torah service is a multi-Torah Shabbat morning service as far as the Gabbaiim are concerned.

On a weekday, the Festival or Holiday Torah Service proceeds almost exactly as does a Shabbat morning multi-Torah service with few exceptions.

- ⌘ At the beginning of the Torah service, instead of Bai Ana Rachetz, which is chanted on Shabbat only, Hashem Hashem, El Rachum v'Chanun is chanted three times. This is followed by a private meditation and Va'ani T'filati is chanted three times. The Torahs are taken out when the chanting is completed.
- ⌘ As indicated in section 2.2, on Pesach, Shavuot and Sukkot, there will be 5 aliyot plus Maftir. (See below for differences on Chol Hamoed days of Pesach and Sukkot as well as on Simchat Torah.)
- ⌘ There will be no Misheberach recited by the Rabbi.
- ⌘ There will be no Caleb's Challenge, so the rimonim or the Torah crown will be placed on the Torahs immediately after Ashrei.

The recessional to return the Torah to the Ark begins with Psalm 24, L'David Mizmor, on page 154. After singing the first line of the prayer, the Hagbah leads the recessional off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi). The Chazzan follows along with the Rabbi and the representative of the Synagogue and G2 join the end of the procession. G1 remains on the Bimah to direct a designated person when to open the Ark curtain and awaits the return of the Torah to the Bimah.

If the Torah returns to the Bimah before Psalm 24 is finished, the Hagbah will stand facing the congregation holding the Torah until the end of the Psalm. After the Psalm is completed, G1 will ask the designated person to open the Ark curtain, take the Torah from the Hagbah and return it to its place on the cradle in the Ark. The Ark curtain is not to be opened until Psalm 24 is finished. If L'David Mizmor is completed while the recessional is still in progress, the congregation normally repeats the last paragraph beginning with S'oo sh'arim rasheychem. The Torah may be placed in the ark during the repetition of the last paragraph. G1 and G2 again take positions on either side of the Ark. The Chazzan stands between them.

The Torah service concludes with the chanting of Etz Chaim (page 154). As the final words are chanted, the Gabbaiim may take the opportunity to step forward and kiss the Torah. As the prayer is concluding, G2 or a designated person closes the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim exit the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair), shaking hands with the Chazzan, the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative.

9. Simchat Torah Torah Service

The Simchat Torah Torah service is unlike any other Torah service. G1 for this service MUST be specially trained for this particular service. At the start, ALL of the Torahs are removed from the Ark and seven hakafot or processions are done with special verses chanted for each. After the hakafot, all but three Torahs are returned to the Ark. The 1st Torah will be used to read V'zot haBeracha, the last parsha in the Torah, the 2nd Torah will be used to start the cycle all over again with Bereisheet and the 3rd Torah is used for the special Maftir reading for the day. The actual Torah service begins with the Sh'ma on page 141.

The Torah service starts like a three Torah service through aliyah 5. Since on Simchat Torah EVERYONE gets an aliyah, the first 5 readings may be repeated until all are called to the Torah.

The 6th aliyah is a special one. During this aliyah, the last book of the Torah is finished. The honoree for this aliyah is someone specifically chosen for this honor by the Ritual Committee. The Super Gabbai does NOT select this person. This honor is called Chatan haTorah or Kallat haTorah, literally Groom or Bride of the Torah, depending on whether a man or a woman is chosen for this honor. A special liturgical poem (page 215) is chanted in order to call up this honoree. Because it is a special honor, should the honoree be a (bat) Kohen or (bat) Levi, he/she can be called with the Kohen or Levi designation.

When the last reading from the 1st Torah is concluded (aliyah #6) and the blessing after the Torah reading is recited, the Gabbaiim need to follow the procedure outlined below:

- ⌘ G1 will ask the congregation to rise. It is imperative that the congregation stands before the Torah is moved to show respect for the Torah.
- ⌘ Take the 2nd Torah (for parsha Bereisheet) from the person holding it and place it on the table to the right of the 1st Torah. The 2nd Torah holder is directed to leave the Bimah to his/her left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ G1 will call Hagbah and Gelilah for the 1st Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Rishon appended. See example below:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיהַ וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר רִאשׁוֹן

- ⌘ The 1st Torah is then dressed as indicated in section 4.20 above.
- ⌘ Once the 1st Torah is dressed, either G1 or G2 thanks the Gelilah and directs him/her off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ After the 1st Torah is dressed, G2 prepares the 2nd Torah to be read and covers it with the Torah cover.
- ⌘ G1 asks the congregation to be seated.

Here is yet again where the Simchat Torah Torah service differs from a “regular” 3 Torah service.

The 7th aliyah is also a special one. During this aliyah, the first book of the Torah is started. The honoree for this aliyah is someone specifically chosen for this honor by the Ritual Committee. The Super Gabbai does NOT select this person. This honor is called Chatan Bereisheet or Kallat Bereisheet, literally Groom or Bride of the First Book of the Torah, depending on whether a man or a woman is chosen for this honor. A special liturgical poem (page 216) is chanted in order to call up this honoree. Because it is a special honor, should the honoree be a (bat) Kohen or (bat) Levi, he/she can be called with the Kohen or Levi designation.

When the reading from the 2nd Torah is concluded and the blessing after the Torah reading is recited, the Gabbaiim need to follow the procedure outlined below:

- ⌘ G1 will ask the congregation to rise. It is imperative that the congregation stands before the Torah is moved to show respect for the Torah.
- ⌘ Take the 3rd Torah from the person holding it and place it on the table to the right of the 2nd Torah. The 3rd Torah holder is directed to leave the Bimah to his/her left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ G1 will recite the Hatzi Kaddish.
- ⌘ G1 will call Hagbah and Gelilah for the 2nd Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Sheni appended. See example below:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיהַ וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר שֵׁנִי

- ⌘ The 2nd Torah is then dressed as indicated in section 4.20 above.
- ⌘ Once the 2nd Torah is dressed, either G1 or G2 thanks the Gelilah and directs him/her off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi).

- ⌘ After the 2nd Torah is dressed, G2 prepares the 3rd Torah to be read and covers it with the Torah cover.
- ⌘ G1 asks the congregation to be seated and calls the Maftir aliyah as above.

Upon the conclusion of the reading and blessing, G1 asks the congregation to stand and calls the Hagbah and Gelilah for the 3rd Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Sh'lishi appended. See example below:

יְעֲמֵדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר שְׁלִישִׁי

When the 3rd Torah is dressed, G1 asks the congregation to be seated. The rimonim or the Torah crowns will be placed on the Torahs immediately after Ashrei. The recessional to return the Torah to the Ark begins with Psalm 24, L'David Mizmor, on page 154. After singing the first line of the prayer, the Hagbahs leads the recessional off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair). The Torahs are carried in the same order as during the processional – 1st Torah first followed by the 2nd, followed by the 3rd. The Chazzan follows along with the Rabbi and the representative of the Synagogue and G2 join the end of the procession. G1 remains on the Bimah, either opening the Ark curtain or directing a designated person to do so and awaits the return of the Torah to the Bimah.

If the Torah returns to the Bimah before Psalm 24 is finished, the Hagbah will stand facing the congregation holding the Torah until the end of the Psalm. After the Psalm is completed, G1 will ask the designated person to open the Ark curtain, take the Torah from the Hagbah and return it to its place on the cradle in the Ark. The Ark curtain is not to be opened until Psalm 24 is finished. If L'David Mizmor is completed while the recessional is still in progress, the congregation normally repeats the last paragraph beginning with S'oo sh'arim rasheychem. The Torah may be placed in the ark during the repetition of the last paragraph. G1 and G2 again take positions on either side of the Ark. The Chazzan stands between them.

The Torah service concludes with the chanting of Etz Chaim (page 154). As the final words are chanted, the Gabbaiim may take the opportunity to step forward and kiss the Torah. As the prayer is concluding, G2 or a designated person closes the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim exit the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair), shaking hands with the Chazzan, the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative.

10. Pesach Chol Hamoed and Chanuka Rosh Chodesh Torah Service

The Pesach Chol Hamoed Torah service that occurs on a weekday is a two Torah service that has 3 aliyot read from the 1st Torah and one aliyah from the 2nd Torah. The major differences between this service and any other 2 Torah service are when Hatzi Kaddish is chanted by G1, the 1st aliyah is called using a different formula than for Shabbat and the fact that there is no Haftorah. The Chanuka Rosh Chodesh service follows the same structure as the Pesach Chol Hamoed Torah service.

10.1 Opening the Ark

One of the Gabbaiim or a designated person opens the Ark curtain. The Chazzan chants Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron...

10.2 Taking Out the Torah

At the conclusion of Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron, the G1 removes two Torahs from the Ark and hands them carefully to the designated persons. The person honored with closing the Ark curtain does so at this time. All on the Bimah stay facing the Ark as the Chazzan chants the Gadlu. All parties on the Bimah bend forward from the waist towards the Ark during the singing of the 1st three words of Gadlu (גַּדְלוּ לַשֵּׁם אֱתֵי) and stand up straight for the rest of the sentence. Gabbaiim should prompt participants who are unfamiliar with this ritual to perform it.

10.3 Processional

The processional occurs immediately following the conclusion of the chanting of Gadlu. The Torah carriers exit the Bimah to the right followed by the Chazzan, the Rabbi, a representative of the synagogue and then G1. During the processional, G2 prepares the Torah reading table by placing the b'rachot sheet (the plastic sheet containing the Torah blessings written in large Hebrew letters and English transliteration) on the right side of the table with the Sefardi side up and the Torah cover on the left. He removes the lectern and places it under one of the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. He/she opens the Chumash on the right side of the table as well as the Tikkun on the left side of the table to the appropriate pages for that day's reading. G2 then faces the left entrance to the Bimah (toward the Rabbi's chair) and awaits the return of the Torahs.

10.4 Removing the Torah Mantle and Silver

As the Torahs arrive at the Bimah, G2 moves to meet them and takes the 1st Torah from the carrier. G2 carries the Torah to the reading table and holds it steady while G1 removes the crown, yad and the breastplate. G1 places the yad on the reading table and stores the crown and the breastplate on the stand next to the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. The 2nd Torah holder is asked to be seated behind the reading table. Crowns from both Torahs are removed. At the same time, G2 places the Torah on the reading table and invites the audience to be seated. After storing the crowns and the breastplate, G1 returns to the Torah reading table, removes the Torah mantle, and places it on top of the stand. Meanwhile, G2 removes the wimple (binding) and places it at the top right corner of the reading table and covers the Torah with the Torah cover. G2 then takes a position on the left side of the reading table and G1 occupies a similar position on the right side.

10.5 Reading the Torah

During the reading of the Torah, G1, positioned on the right side of the reading table, performs several tasks. G1 calls the individual to the Bimah for each aliyah, assists that person in performing the ritual of kissing the Torah, as necessary, ensures that the blessings are recited properly and directs each individual to the appropriate position on the Bimah.

G2 announces the chapter, verse and page of the reading in the Chumash before each aliyah (before the honoree chants the blessings), keeps track of where each reading begins and ends in the Torah scroll and directs the honorees to leave the Bimah at the appropriate time.

Both Gabbaiim share responsibility for following the Torah reading, assisting the Torah reader as necessary and correcting mistakes made by the reader. The Gabbaiim MUST correct errors in pronunciation, but should not correct mistakes in trope. At Beth Emeth, a male honoree is required to wear a tallit and a kippah when called up on the Bimah. A female honoree must have an appropriate head covering. It is the responsibility of the Super Gabbai to ensure that the honorees have the appropriate vestments.

10.6 First Aliyah through Third Aliyah

G1 calls the first aliyah by chanting the V'Tigaleh instead of V'ya'azor as below:

וְתִגָּלֶה וְתִרְאֶה מְלָכוּתוֹ עָלֵינוּ בְּזִמְן קָרוֹב, וְיַחֲזִין פְּלִיטָתָנוּ
 וּפְלִיטַת עַמּוֹ בֵּית יִשְׂרָאֵל לְחֵן וּלְחֶסֶד לְרַחֲמִים וּלְרִצּוֹן,
 וְנֹאמַר אָמֵן. הַכֹּל הָבּוֹ גָּדֹל לֵאלֹהֵינוּ וְתִנּוּ כְבוֹד לַתּוֹרָה.

If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service (which may happen during Chanuka), most likely the honorees will NOT be Kohanim or Leviim. In this case, the aliyot, instead of Kohen, Levi and Shlishi, will be called as Rishon, Sheni and Shlishi (Rishona, Sh'nia and Shlisheet for women). If this is a service without a Bar/Bat Mitzvah, an attempt will be made to honor a Kohen and Levi with the 1st and 2nd aliyah respectively. If using a Kohen or a Levi, G1 continues with calling the Kohen (if present) as described above in section 4.8 Common Procedure for All First Aliyot. The second and third aliyot are called as described above in sections 4.9 and 4.10. If the calling will be for Rishon and Sheni instead, the honoree will be called as follows:

A male will be called as follows:

יְעֲמִד _____ בֶּן _____ רִאשׁוֹן / שְׁנִי

A female will be called as follows:

תְּעֲמִד _____ בַּת _____ רִאשׁוֹנָה / שְׁנִיָּה

Exception: If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service for a family of Kohanim or Levi'im, there may be a need to honor an additional Kohen or a Levi. In this case, aliyah 4 may be available for a Kohen or a Levi to be called with the Kohen or the Levi designation. He/she will be called with the “Acharon” formula as was discussed in section 4.14 above for a 7th aliyah on Shabbat morning.

A Kohen would be called as follows:

יְעֲמִד _____ בֶּן _____ הַכֹּהֵן רְבִיעִי אַחֲרוֹן

A bat Kohen would be called as follows:

תְּעֲמִד _____ בַּת _____ הַכֹּהֵן רְבִיעִית אַחֲרוֹנָה

A Levi or a bat Levi would be called in a similar fashion substituting הַלְוִי for הַכֹּהֵן above. This is usually used when the Kohen or Levi aliyah is already taken for whatever reason and another Kohen or Levi needs to be accommodated with an aliyah. An example where this may occur is a Bar Mitzvah for a family of Kohanim where the Grandfather gets the Kohen aliyah and the Bar Mitzvah gets the 4th or Acharon aliyah. This would be allowed ONLY if the 1st and 2nd aliyah is being given to a Kohen AND a Levi, respectively. It will NOT be allowed if the 1st and 2nd aliyah is called as Rishon and Sheni.

10.7 Lifting and Dressing the Torahs/Hatzi Kaddish

When all readings from the 1st Torah are concluded and the blessing after the last reading from the 1st Torah is recited, the Gabbaiim need to follow the procedure outlined below:

- ⌘ G1 will ask the congregation to rise. It is imperative that the congregation stands before the Torah is moved to show respect for the Torah.

- ⌘ Take the 2nd Torah from the person holding it and place it on the table to the right of the 1st Torah. The 2nd Torah holder is directed to leave the Bimah to his/her left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ G1 will call Hagbah and Gelilah for the 1st Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Rishon appended. See example below:

יְעִמְדוּ הַמְּגַבֵּיהַ וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר רִאשׁוֹן

- ⌘ The 1st Torah is then dressed as indicated in section 4.20 above with the exception that the rimonim or the Torah crown are placed on the Torah.
- ⌘ Once the 1st Torah is dressed, either G1 or G2 thanks the Gelilah and directs him/her off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi).
- ⌘ After the 1st Torah is dressed, G2 prepares the 2nd Torah to be read and covers it with the Torah cover.
- ⌘ G1 asks the congregation to be seated and calls the 4th aliyah as above in section 4.11.

Upon the conclusion of the reading and blessings, G1 asks the congregation to stand and recites the Hatzi Kaddish on page 71 of the weekday Siddur. G1 then calls the Hagbah and Gelilah for the 2nd Torah. The calling will be done as in section 4.20 depending on the gender of the lifter and the binder with the words L'Sefer Shenii appended. See example below:

יְעִמְדוּ הַמְּגַבֵּיהַ וְהַגּוֹלְלֵת לְסֵפֶר שֵׁנִי

The 2nd Torah is then dressed including the crown or rimonim.

10.8 Returning the Torahs to the Ark

The recessional to return the Torahs to the Ark begins with L'David Mizmor on page 76 of the weekday Siddur. After singing the first line of the prayer, the Hagbah leads the recessional off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair). The Chazzan follows along with the Rabbi and the representative of the Synagogue and G2 join the end of the procession. G1 remains on the Bimah, either opening the Ark curtain or directing a designated person to do so and awaits the return of the Torahs to the Bimah.

If the Torahs return to the Bimah before Psalm 24, L'David Mizmor on page 76, is finished, the Hagbahs will stand facing the congregation holding the Torahs until the end of the Psalm. After the Psalm is completed, G1 will ask the designated person to open the Ark curtain, take the Torahs from the Hagbahs and return them to the cradle in the Ark. The Ark curtain is not to be opened until Psalm 24 is finished. If L'David Mizmor is completed while the recessional is still in progress, the congregation normally repeats the last paragraph beginning with S'oo sh'arim rasheychem. The Torah may be placed in the ark during the repetition of the last paragraph. G1 and G2 again take positions on either side of the Ark. The Chazzan stands between them. The Torah service concludes with the chanting of Etz Chaim (page 77). As the final words are chanted, the Gabbaiim may take the opportunity to step forward and kiss the Torah. As the prayer is concluding, G2 or a designated person closes the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim exit the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair), shaking hands with the Chazzan, the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative.

11. Weekday Torah Service

The weekday Torah service will also be followed on Chanuka weekdays that are not Rosh Chodesh.

11.1 Ascending the Bimah

The Torah service begins on page 65 of the weekday Sim Shalom Siddur, following the Shacharit service, which concludes with the chanting of Hatzi Kaddish on page 47. In anticipation of going up to the Bimah, during the Kaddish, the Gabbaiim should move quietly to a position near the Torah table. At the conclusion of the Kaddish, the Gabbaiim should walk to the Bimah and stand before the Ark with the Chazzan.

11.2 Opening the Ark

One of the Gabbaiim or a designated person opens the Ark curtain. The Chazzan chants Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron...

11.3 Taking Out the Torah

At the conclusion of Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron, the G1 removes the Torah being read from the Ark and hands it carefully to the Chazzan or a designated person. The person honored with closing the Ark curtain does so at this time. All on the Bimah stay facing the Ark as the Chazzan chants the Gadlu. All parties on the Bimah bend forward from the waist towards the Ark during the singing of the 1st three words of Gadlu (גַּדְּלוּ לַיהוָה אֱתֵי לְשֵׁם אֱתֵי) and stand up straight for the rest of the sentence. Gabbaiim should prompt participants who are unfamiliar with this ritual to perform it.

11.4 Processional

The processional occurs immediately following the conclusion of the chanting of Gadlu. The Torah carrier exits the Bimah to the right followed by the Chazzan, the Rabbi, a representative of the synagogue and then G1. During the processional, G2 prepares the Torah reading table by placing the b'rachot sheet (the plastic sheet containing the Torah blessings written in large Hebrew letters and English transliteration) on the right side of the table with the Sefardi side up and the Torah cover on the left. He removes the lectern and places it under one of the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. He/she opens the Chumash on the right side of the table as well as the Tikkun on the left side of the table to the appropriate pages for that day's reading. G2 then faces the left entrance to the Bimah (toward the Rabbi's chair) and awaits the return of the Torah.

11.5 Removing the Torah Mantle and Silver

As the Torah arrives at the Bimah, G2 moves to meet it and takes it from the carrier. G2 carries the Torah to the reading table and holds it steady while G1 removes the crown, yad and the breastplate. G1 places the yad on the reading table and stores the crown and the breastplate on the stand next to the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. At the same time, G2 places the Torah on the reading table and invites the audience to be seated. After storing the crown and the breastplate, G1 returns to the Torah reading table, removes the Torah mantle, and places it on top of the stand. Meanwhile, G2 removes the wimple (binding) and places it at the top right corner of the reading table and covers the Torah with the Torah cover. G2 then takes a position on the left side of the reading table and G1 occupies a similar position on the right side.

11.6 Reading the Torah

During the reading of the Torah, G1, positioned on the right side of the reading table, performs several tasks. G1 calls the individual to the Bimah for each aliyah, assists that person in performing the ritual of kissing the Torah, as necessary, ensures that the blessings are recited properly and directs each individual to the appropriate position on the Bimah.

G2 announces the chapter, verse and page of the reading in the Chumash before each aliyah (before the honoree chants the blessings), keeps track of where each reading begins and ends in the Torah scroll and directs the honorees to leave the Bimah at the appropriate time.

Both Gabbaiim share responsibility for following the Torah reading, assisting the Torah reader as necessary and correcting mistakes made by the reader. The Gabbaiim MUST correct errors in pronunciation, but should not correct mistakes in trope. At Beth Emeth, a male honoree is required to wear a tallit and a kippah when called up on the Bimah. A female honoree must have an appropriate head covering. It is the responsibility of the Super Gabbai to ensure that the honorees have the appropriate vestments.

11.7 First Aliyah through Third Aliyah

G1 calls the first aliyah by chanting the V'Tigaleh on page 66 as below:

וְתִגְלֶה וְתִרְאֶה מְלָכוֹתוֹ עָלֵינוּ בְּזִמְן קָרוֹב, וַיַּחֲזִין פְּלִיטָתָנוּ
וּפְלִיטַת עַמּוֹ בֵּית יִשְׂרָאֵל לְחֵן וּלְחֶסֶד לְרַחֲמִים וּלְרַצוֹן,
וְנֹאמַר אָמֵן. הַכֹּל הָבֹ גְדֹל לֵאלֹהֵינוּ וְתֵנוּ כְבוֹד לְתוֹרָה.

If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service, most likely the honorees will NOT be Kohanim or Leviim. In this case, the aliyot, instead of Kohen, Levi and Shlishi, will be called as Rishon, Sheni and Shlishi (Rishona, Sh'nia and Shlshit for women). If this is a congregational service without a Bar/Bat Mitzvah, an attempt will be made to honor a Kohen and Levi with the 1st and 2nd aliyah respectively. If using a Kohen or a Levi, G1 continues with calling the Kohen (if present) as described above in section 4.8 Common Procedure for All First Aliyot. The second and third aliyot are called as described above in sections 4.9 and 4.10.. If the calling will be for Rishon and Sheni instead, the honoree will be called as follows:

A male will be called as follows:

יְעַמַּד _____ בֶּן _____ רִאשׁוֹן / שְׁנִי

A female will be called as follows:

תְּעַמַּד _____ בַּת _____ רִאשׁוֹנָה / שְׁנִיָּה

Exception: If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service for a family of Kohanim or Levi'im, there may be a need to honor an additional Kohen or a Levi. In this case, aliyah 3 may be available for a Kohen or a Levi to be called with the Kohen or the Levi designation. He/she will be called with the “Acharon” formula as was discussed in section 4.14 above for a 7th aliyah on Shabbat morning.

A Kohen would be called as follows:

יְעַמַּד _____ בֶּן _____ הַכֹּהֵן שְׁלִישִׁי אַחֲרוֹן

A bat Kohen would be called as follows:

תְּעַמַּד _____ בַּת _____ הַכֹּהֵן שְׁלִישִׁית אַחֲרוֹנָה

A Levi or a bat Levi would be called in a similar fashion substituting הַלְוִי for הַכֹּהֵן above. This is usually used when the Kohen or Levi aliyah is already taken for whatever reason and another Kohen or Levi needs to be accommodated with an aliyah. An example where this may occur is a Bar Mitzvah for a family of Kohanim where the Grandfather gets the Kohen aliyah and the Bar Mitzvah gets the 3rd or Acharon aliyah. This would be allowed ONLY if the 1st and 2nd aliyah is being given to a Kohen AND a Levi, respectively. It will NOT be allowed if the 1st and 2nd aliyah is called as Rishon and Sheni.

11.8 Hatzi Kaddish

When the third Aliyah is concluded and the appropriate blessings are chanted, G1 asks the congregation to rise and then recites the Hatzi Kaddish (page 71).

11.9 Lifting and Dressing the Torah

At the conclusion of Hatzi Kaddish, G1 calls the Torah lifter, Hagbah, and Torah binder, Gelilah, to the Bimah.

For a male lifter and a male binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמֵדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵל

For a male lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמֵדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵלָת

For a female lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls: תְּעַמְדְנָה הַמַּגְבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵלָת

For a female lifter and male binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמֵדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵל

G2 should move the microphone to be out of the way as the Torah is lifted. As the Torah is lifted, the congregation sings V'zot HaTorah (page 71). G1 and G2 must stand nearby during the lifting of the Torah to protect against any accidents that might damage the Torah. They must help the Hagbah turn towards the Ark and guide the Hagbah to an empty Bimah chair. Then, G2 holds the top Etzim to steady the Torah and assists the Gelilah to roll the Torah closed.

Once the Hagbah is seated and has control over the Torah and while G2 is holding on to the top Etzim, G1 retrieves the wimple, Torah mantle, and breastplate (but not the crown or rimonim) and assists the Gelilah in binding and dressing the Torah. At no time should the Torah not be attended by one of the Gabbaiim. After the Torah is dressed, G1 should assist the Hagbah by turning the Torah so that it faces the audience and can be held comfortably by the Hagbah. G2 removes the Torah cover and the b'rachot sheet from the Bimah. The Gelilah is directed to leave the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi) once the Torah is completely dressed. G1 retrieves the Torah crown or rimonim and places it on the Torah. The congregation remains standing.

11.10 Returning the Torah to the Ark

The recessional to return the Torah to the Ark begins with L'David Mizmor on page 76. After singing the first line of the prayer, the Hagbah leads the recessional off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair). The Chazzan follows along with the Rabbi and the representative of the Synagogue and G2 join the end of the procession. G1 remains on the Bimah, either opening the Ark curtain or directing a designated person to do so and awaits the return of the Torah to the Bimah.

If the Torah returns to the Bimah before Psalm 24, L'David Mizmor is finished, the Hagbah will stand facing the congregation holding the Torah until the end of the Psalm. After the Psalm is completed, G1 will direct the designated person to open the Ark curtain, take the Torah from the Hagbah and return it to its place on the cradle in the Ark. The Ark curtain is not to be opened until Psalm 24 is finished. If L'David Mizmor is completed while the recessional is still in progress, the congregation normally repeats the last paragraph beginning with S'oo sh'arim rasheychem. The Torah may be placed in the ark during the repetition of the last paragraph. G1 and G2 again take positions on either side of the Ark. The Chazzan stands between them. The Torah service concludes with the chanting of Etz Chaim (page 77). As the final words are chanted, the Gabbaiim may take the opportunity to step forward and kiss the Torah. As the prayer is concluding, G2 or a designated person closes the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim exit the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair), shaking hands with the Chazzan, the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative.

12. Weekday Rosh Chodesh and Chol Hamoed Sukkot Torah Service

On Rosh Chodesh as well as on weekday Chol Hamoed Sukkot, there will be 4 aliyot instead of the usual three.

12.1 Ascending the Bimah

The Torah service begins on page 65 of the weekday Sim Shalom Siddur, following the Shacharit service, which concludes with the chanting of Hatzi Kaddish on page 47. In anticipation of going up to the Bimah, during the Kaddish, the Gabbaiim should move quietly to a position near the Torah table. At the conclusion of the Kaddish, the Gabbaiim should walk to the Bimah and stand before the Ark with the Chazzan.

12.2 Opening the Ark

One of the Gabbaiim or a designated person opens the Ark curtain. The Chazzan chants Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron...

12.3 Taking Out the Torah

At the conclusion of Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron, the G1 removes the Torah being read from the Ark and hands it carefully to the Chazzan or a designated person. The person honored with closing the Ark curtain does so at this time. All on the Bimah stay facing the Ark as the Chazzan chants the Gadlu. All parties on the Bimah bend forward from the waist towards the Ark during the singing of the 1st three words of Gadlu (גַּדְלוּ וְלִשְׁמֵ אֲתִי) and stand up straight for the rest of the sentence. Gabbaiim should prompt participants who are unfamiliar with this ritual to perform it.

12.4 Processional

The processional occurs immediately following the conclusion of the chanting of Gadlu. The Torah carrier exits the Bimah to the right followed by the Chazzan, the Rabbi, a representative of the synagogue and then G1. During the processional, G2 prepares the Torah reading table by placing the b'rachot sheet (the plastic sheet containing the Torah blessings written in large Hebrew letters and English transliteration) on the right side of the table with the Sefardi side up and the Torah cover on the left. He removes the lectern and places it under one of the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. He/she opens the Chumash on the right side of the table as well as the Tikkun on the left side of the table to the appropriate pages for that day's reading. G2 then faces the left entrance to the Bimah (toward the Rabbi's chair) and awaits the return of the Torah.

12.5 Removing the Torah Mantle and Silver

As the Torah arrives at the Bimah, G2 moves to meet it and takes it from the carrier. G2 carries the Torah to the reading table and holds it steady while G1 removes the crown, yad and the breastplate. G1 places the yad on the reading table and stores the crown and the breastplate on the stand next to the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. At the same time, G2 places the Torah on the reading table and invites the audience to be seated. After storing the crown and the breastplate, G1 returns to the Torah reading table, removes the Torah mantle, and places it on top of the stand. Meanwhile, G2 removes the wimple (binding) and places it at the top right corner of the reading table and covers the Torah with the Torah cover. G2 then takes a position on the left side of the reading table and G1 occupies a similar position on the right side.

12.6 Reading the Torah

During the reading of the Torah, G1, positioned on the right side of the reading table, performs several tasks. G1 calls the individual to the Bimah for each aliyah, assists that person in performing the ritual of kissing the Torah, as necessary, ensures that the blessings are recited properly and directs each individual to the appropriate position on the Bimah.

G2 announces the chapter, verse and page of the reading in the Chumash before each aliyah (before the honoree chants the blessings), keeps track of where each reading begins and ends in the Torah scroll and directs the honorees to leave the Bimah at the appropriate time.

Both Gabbaiim share responsibility for following the Torah reading, assisting the Torah reader as necessary and correcting mistakes made by the reader. The Gabbaiim MUST correct errors in pronunciation, but should not correct mistakes in trope. At Beth Emeth, a male honoree is required to wear a tallit and a kippah when called up on the Bimah. A female honoree must have an appropriate head covering. It is the responsibility of the Super Gabbai to ensure that the honorees have the appropriate vestments.

12.7 First Aliyah through Fourth Aliyah

G1 calls the first aliyah by chanting the V'Tigaleh on page 66 as below:

וְתִגְלֶה וְתִרְאֶה מַלְכוּתוֹ עָלֵינוּ בְּזִמְן קָרוֹב, וַיַּחֲזִן פְּלִיטָתָנוּ
וּפְלִיטַת עַמּוֹ בֵּית יִשְׂרָאֵל לְחַן וּלְחֶסֶד לְרַחֲמִים וּלְרַצוֹן,
וְנֹאמַר אָמֵן. הַכֹּל הָבֹ גְדֹל לְאֱלֹהֵינוּ וְתִנּוּ כְבוֹד לְתוֹרָה.

If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service, most likely the honorees will NOT be Kohanim or Leviim. In this case, the aliyot, instead of Kohen, Levi and Shlishi, will be called as Rishon, Sheni and Shlishi (Rishona, Sh'nia and Shlshit for women). If this is a congregational service without a Bar/Bat Mitzvah, an attempt will be made to honor a Kohen and Levi with the 1st and 2nd aliyah respectively. If using a Kohen or a Levi, G1 continues with calling the Kohen (if present) as described above in section 4.8 Common Procedure for All First Aliyot. The second, third and fourth aliyot are called as described above in sections 4.9 through 4.11. If the calling will be for Rishon and Sheni instead, the honoree will be called as follows:

A male will be called as follows:

יְעֲמִד _____ בֶּן _____ רִאשׁוֹן / שְׁנִי

A female will be called as follows:

תְּעֲמִד _____ בֵּת _____ רִאשׁוֹנָה / שְׁנִיָּה

Exception: If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service for a family of Kohanim or Levi'im, there may be a need to honor an additional Kohen or a Levi. In this case, aliyah 4 may be available for a Kohen or a Levi to be called with the Kohen or the Levi designation. He/she will be called with the “Acharon” formula as was discussed in section 4.14 above for a 7th aliyah on Shabbat morning.

A Kohen would be called as follows:

יְעֲמִד _____ בֶּן _____ הַכֹּהֵן רְבִיעִי אַחֲרוֹן

A bat Kohen would be called as follows:

תְּעַמְד _____ בַּת _____ הַכֹּהֵן רְבִיעִית אַחֲרוֹנָה

A Levi or a bat Levi would be called in a similar fashion substituting הַלְוִי for הַכֹּהֵן above. This is usually used when the Kohen or Levi aliyah is already taken for whatever reason and another Kohen or Levi needs to be accommodated with an aliyah. An example where this may occur is a Bar Mitzvah for a family of Kohanim where the Grandfather gets the Kohen aliyah and the Bar Mitzvah gets the 4th or Acharon aliyah. This would be allowed ONLY if the 1st and 2nd aliyah is being given to a Kohen AND a Levi, respectively. It will NOT be allowed if the 1st and 2nd aliyah is called as Rishon and Sheni.

12.8 Hatzi Kaddish

When the fourth Aliyah is concluded and the appropriate blessings are chanted, G1 asks the congregation to rise and then recites the Hatzi Kaddish (page 71).

12.9 Lifting and Dressing the Torah

At the conclusion of Hatzi Kaddish, G1 calls the Torah lifter, Hagbah, and Torah binder, Gelilah, to the Bimah.

For a male lifter and a male binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵל

For a male lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵלָת

For a female lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls: תְּעַמְדְנָה הַמַּגְבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵלָת

For a female lifter and male binder, the Gabbai calls: יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵל

G2 should move the microphone to be out of the way as the Torah is lifted. As the Torah is lifted, the congregation sings V'zot HaTorah (page 71). G1 and G2 must stand nearby during the lifting of the Torah to protect against any accidents that might damage the Torah. They must help the Hagbah turn towards the Ark and guide the Hagbah to an empty Bimah chair. Then, G2 holds the top Etzim to steady the Torah and assists the Gelilah to roll the Torah closed.

Once the Hagbah is seated and has control over the Torah and while G2 is holding on to the top Etzim, G1 retrieves the wimple, Torah mantle, and breastplate (but not the crown or rimonim) and assists the Gelilah in binding and dressing the Torah. At no time should the Torah not be attended by one of the Gabba'im. After the Torah is dressed, G1 should assist the Hagbah by turning the Torah so that it faces the audience and can be held comfortably by the Hagbah. G2 removes the Torah cover and the b'rachot sheet from the Bimah. The Gelilah is directed to leave the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi) once the Torah is completely dressed. G1 retrieves the Torah crown or rimonim and places it on the Torah. The congregation remains standing, unless this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service.

If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service, the congregation is seated at this time, because the child will deliver a drash and any supplemental prayers will be recited.

12.10 Returning the Torah to the Ark

The recessional to return the Torah to the Ark begins with L'David Mizmor on page 76. After singing the first line of the prayer, the Hagbah leads the recessional off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair). The Chazzan follows along with the Rabbi and the representative of the Synagogue and G2 join the end of the procession. G1 remains on the Bimah, either opening the Ark curtain or directing a designated person to do so and awaits the return of the Torah to the Bimah.

If the Torah returns to the Bimah before Psalm 24, L'David Mizmor is finished, the Hagbah will stand facing the congregation holding the Torah until the end of the Psalm. After the Psalm is completed, G1 will direct the designated person to open the Ark curtain, take the Torah from the Hagbah and return it to its place on the cradle in the Ark. The Ark curtain is not to be opened until Psalm 24 is finished. If L'David Mizmor is completed while the recessional is still in progress, the congregation normally repeats the last paragraph beginning with S'oo sh'arim rasheychem. The Torah may be placed in the ark during the repetition of the last paragraph. G1 and G2 again take positions on either side of the Ark. The Chazzan stands between them. The Torah service concludes with the chanting of Etz Chaim (page 77). As the final words are chanted, the Gabbaiim may take the opportunity to step forward and kiss the Torah. As the prayer is concluding, G2 or a designated person closes the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim exit the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair), shaking hands with the Chazzan, the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative.

13. Shabbat Afternoon Mincha Service

13.1 Ascending the Bimah

The Torah service begins on page 173 of the Siddur Sim Shalom for Weekdays, following the Hatzi Kaddish. In anticipation of going up to the Bimah, during the Hatzi Kaddish, the Gabbaiim should move quietly to a position near the Torah table. At the conclusion they should walk to the Bimah and stand before the Ark with the Chazzan.

13.2 Opening the Ark

One of the Gabbaiim or a designated person opens the Ark curtain. The Chazzan chants Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron...

13.3 Taking Out the Torah

At the conclusion of Va'yehi Bin'soa Ha'Aron, the G1 removes the Torah being read from the Ark and hands it carefully to the Chazzan or a designated person. The person honored with closing the Ark curtain does so at this time. All on the Bimah stay facing the Ark as the Chazzan chants the Gadlu. All parties on the Bimah bend forward from the waist towards the Ark during the singing of Gadlu (וְגַדְלוּ לַיהוָה אֱתֵי) and stand up straight for the rest of the sentence. Gabbaiim should prompt participants who are unfamiliar with this ritual to perform it.

13.4 Processional

The processional occurs immediately following the conclusion of the chanting of Gadlu. The Torah carrier exits the Bimah to the right followed by the Chazzan, the Rabbi, a representative of the synagogue and then G1. During the processional, G2 prepares the Torah reading table by placing the b'rachot sheet (the plastic sheet containing the Torah blessings written in large Hebrew letters and English transliteration) on the right side of the table with the Sefardi side up and the Torah cover on the left. He removes the lectern and places it under one of the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. He/she opens the Chumash on the right side of the table as well as the Tikkun on the left side of the table to the appropriate pages for that day's reading. G2 then faces the left entrance to the Bimah (toward the Rabbi's chair) and awaits the return of the Torah.

13.5 Removing the Torah Mantle and Silver

As the Torah arrives at the Bimah, G2 moves to meet it and takes it from the carrier. G2 carries the Torah to the reading table and holds it steady while G1 removes the crown, yad and the breastplate. G1 places the yad on the reading table and stores the crown and the breastplate on the stand next to the chairs on the right side of the Bimah. At the same time, G2 places the Torah on the reading table and invites the audience to be seated. After storing the crown and the breastplate, G1 returns to the Torah reading table, removes the Torah mantle, and places it on top of the stand. Meanwhile, G2 removes the wimple (binding) and places it at the top right corner of the reading table and covers the Torah with the Torah cover. G2 then takes a position on the left side of the reading table and G1 occupies a similar position on the right side.

13.6 Reading the Torah

During the reading of the Torah, G1, positioned on the right side of the reading table, performs several tasks. G1 calls the individual to the Bimah for each aliyah, assists that person in performing the ritual of kissing the Torah, as necessary, ensures that the blessings are recited properly and directs each individual to the appropriate position on the Bimah.

G2 announces the chapter, verse and page of the reading in the Chumash before each aliyah (before the honoree chants the blessings), keeps track of where each reading begins and ends in the Torah scroll and directs the honorees to leave the Bimah at the appropriate time.

Both Gabbaiim share responsibility for following the Torah reading, assisting the Torah reader as necessary and correcting mistakes made by the reader. The Gabbaiim MUST correct errors in pronunciation, but should not correct mistakes in trope. At Beth Emeth, a male honoree is required to wear a tallit and a kippah when called up on the Bimah. A female honoree must have an appropriate head covering. It is the responsibility of the Super Gabbai to ensure that the honorees have the appropriate vestments.

13.7 First Aliyah through Third Aliyah

G1 calls the first aliyah by chanting the V'Tigaleh on page 230 as below:

וְתִגְּלֶה וְתִרְאֶה מִלְכוּתוֹ עָלֵינוּ בְּזִמְן קָרוֹב, וְיַחֲוֹן פְּלִיטָתֵנוּ
וּפְלִיטַת עַמּוֹ בֵּית יִשְׂרָאֵל לְחַן וּלְחֶסֶד לְרַחֲמִים וּלְרַצוֹן,
וְנֹאמַר אָמֵן. הֵכֵל הָבֹ גְדֹל לֵאלֹהֵינוּ וְתֵנוּ כְבוֹד לְתוֹרָה.

If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service, most likely the honorees will NOT be Kohanim or Leviim. In this case, the aliyot, instead of Kohen, Levi and Shlishi, will be called as Rishon, Sheni and Shlishi (Rishona, Sh'nia and Shlshit for women). If this is a congregational service without a Bar/Bat Mitzvah, an attempt will be made to honor a Kohen and Levi with the 1st and 2nd aliyah respectively. If using a Kohen or a Levi, G1 continues with calling the Kohen (if present) as described above in section

4.8 Common Procedure for All First Aliyot. The second and third aliyot are called as described above in sections 4.9 and 4.10.. If the calling will be for Rishon and Sheni instead, the honoree will be called as follows:

A male will be called as follows:

יְעֲמִד _____ בֶּן _____ רִאשׁוֹן / שְׁנִי

A female will be called as follows:

תְּעַמְד _____ בַּת _____ רִאשׁוֹנָה / שְׁנִיָּה

There will be no Hatzi Kaddish.

Exception: If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service for a family of Kohanim or Levi'im, there may be a need to honor an additional Kohen or a Levi. In this case, aliyah 3 may be available for a Kohen or a Levi to be called with the Kohen or the Levi designation. He/she will be called with the “Acharon” formula as was discussed in section 4.14 above for a 7th aliyah on Shabbat morning.

A Kohen would be called as follows:

יְעֲמִד _____ בֶּן _____ הַכֹּהֵן שְׁלִישִׁי אַחֲרוֹן

A bat Kohen would be called as follows:

תְּעַמְד _____ בַּת _____ הַכֹּהֵן שְׁלִישִׁית אַחֲרוֹנָה

A Levi or a bat Levi would be called in a similar fashion substituting הַלְוִי for הַכֹּהֵן above. This is usually used when the Kohen or Levi aliyah is already taken for whatever reason and another Kohen or Levi needs to be accommodated with an aliyah. An example where this may occur is a Bar Mitzvah for a family of Kohanim where the Grandfather gets the Kohen aliyah and the Bar Mitzvah gets the 3rd or Acharon aliyah. This would be allowed ONLY if the 1st and 2nd aliyah is being given to a Kohen AND a Levi, respectively. It will NOT be allowed if the 1st and 2nd aliyah is called as Rishon and Sheni.

13.8 Lifting and Dressing the Torah

At the conclusion of the third aliyah, G1 calls the Torah lifter, Hagbah, and Torah binder, Gelilah, to the Bimah.

For a male lifter and a male binder, the Gabbai calls:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵל

For a male lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּה וְהַגּוֹלֵלָת

For a female lifter and female binder, the Gabbai calls:

תְּעַמְדְנָה הַמַּגְבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵלָת

For a female lifter and male binder, the Gabbai calls:

יְעֲמִדוּ הַמַּגְבִּיָּהָ וְהַגּוֹלֵל

G2 should move the microphone to be out of the way as the Torah is lifted. G1 asks the congregation to rise and as the Torah is lifted, the congregation sings V'zot HaTorah (page 231). G1 and G2 must stand nearby during the lifting of the Torah to protect against any accidents that might damage the Torah. They must help the Hagbah turn towards the Ark and guide the Hagbah to an empty Bimah chair. Then, G2 holds the top Etzim to steady the Torah and assists the Gelilah to roll the Torah closed.

Once the Hagbah is seated and has control over the Torah and while G2 is holding on to the top Etzim, G1 retrieves the wimple, Torah mantle, and breastplate (but not the crown or rimonim) and assists the Gelilah in binding and dressing the Torah. At no time should the Torah not be attended by one of the Gabbaiim. After the Torah is dressed, G1 should assist the Hagbah by turning the Torah so that it faces the audience and can be held comfortably by the Hagbah. G2 removes the Torah cover and the b'rachot sheet from the Bimah. The Gelilah is directed to leave the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi) once the Torah is completely dressed. The congregation remains standing, unless this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service.

If this is a Bar/Bat Mitzvah service, the congregation is seated at this time, because the child will deliver a drash and any supplemental prayers will be recited.

13.9 Returning the Torah to the Ark

The recessional to return the Torah to the Ark begins with Psalm 24, L'David Mizmor, on page 232. After singing the first line of the prayer, the Hagbah leads the recessional off the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair). The Chazzan follows along with the Rabbi and the representative of the Synagogue and G2 join the end of the procession. G1 remains on the Bimah, either opening the Ark curtain or directing a designated person to do so and awaits the return of the Torah to the Bimah.

If the Torah returns to the Bimah before Psalm 24 is finished, the Hagbah will stand facing the congregation holding the Torah until the end of the Psalm. After the Psalm is completed, G1 will direct the designated person to open the Ark curtain, take the Torah from the Hagbah and return it to its place on the cradle in the Ark. The Ark curtain is not to be opened until Psalm 24 is finished. If L'David Mizmor is completed while the recessional is still in progress, the congregation normally repeats the last paragraph beginning with S'oo sh'arim rasheychem. The Torah may be placed in the ark during the repetition of the last paragraph. G1 and G2 again take positions on either side of the Ark. The Chazzan stands between them. The Torah service concludes with the chanting of Etz Chaim (page 232). As the final words are chanted, the Gabbaiim may take the opportunity to step forward and kiss the Torah. As the prayer is concluding, G2 or a designated person closes the Ark curtain. The Gabbaiim exit the Bimah to the left (toward the Rabbi's chair), shaking hands with the Chazzan, the Rabbi and the Synagogue representative.

14. Congregation Standing During Torah Reading or Chanting with the Reader

There are several places in the Torah where the congregation needs to stand while the verses are being chanted. There are other places where the congregation chants the verse and then the reader repeats it or where the congregation would chant the verse together with the reader. The Gabbaiim need to be familiar with these places so that they can either ask the congregation to rise or lead by example by chanting the verse before the reader.

Following are some places where the congregation needs to rise before the reader chants the verses:

- |                     |                    |                                  |
|---------------------|--------------------|----------------------------------|
| ⌘ Book: Exodus      | Parsha: BeShallach | Verses: Song of the Sea 15:1-18  |
| ⌘ Book: Exodus      | Parsha: Yitro      | Verses: Ten Commandments 20:2-14 |
| ⌘ Book: Deutoronomy | Parsha: V'Etchanan | Verses: Ten Commandments 5:6-18  |

Some of the places where the congregation chants verses before or with the reader are as follows:

- ⌘ The congregation chants "Chazak, chazak, v'nit'chazeyk" when the last verse in each book of the Torah is chanted. The reader repeats. This is done once every three years due to the fact that at Beth Emeth we read on the Triennial Cycle. This is chanted when the actual last verse is read.

- ⌘ On Simchat Torah, during the Bereisheet reading, the congregation chants the last line for each day of the week before the reader – “Va’yehi erev, va’yehi boker, yom – followed by the number of the day – Echad, Sheni, Sh’lishi, Revi’i, Chamishi, haShishi.
- ⌘ Congregation joins in chanting the last phrase of each aliyah.

This is by no means an exclusive list. This list will be updated in the future.

15. Conclusion

A lot of effort has been put forth to ensure that the material in this playbook is accurate according to the standards of Congregation Beth Emeth. Should you have any questions or comments, please feel free to direct them to the Ritual Committee chair, who will forward them to the appropriate person.

I would like to thank Rabbi Steve Glazer and Lois Jacobs for helping me put this playbook together and for reviewing its content.
